

in-context authorization

In order to personalise your experience, Service Y would like to access your GPII preferences.

allow do not allow

To edit your privacy settings at any time, go to your Account settings in the Preference Management Tool if "allow" is selected, service will be added to list of allowed services in Privacy settings in PMT account settings - read/write access (not specified)

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

+ Add service

cancel

save hover state - adding service to list

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

+ Add service

cancel

save

select service from dropdown

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

+ Add service

Facebook
Google +
Twitter Service A Service B
Service C
Service X
Service Y
Service Z

cancel

save

Service A is added to the list

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

Service A

+ Add service

cancel

save

multiple services have been added (manually here, or automatically from in-context dialog)

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

Service A

Service Y

Service B

+ Add service

cancel

save

deleting a service from the list (revoking access)

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

Service A

Service Y

Service B

+ Add service

cancel

save

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

Service Y

Service B

+ Add service

cancel

save

in PMT account settings - read-only or read/write access specified

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

+ Add service

cancel

save

hover state - adding service to list

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

+ Add service

cancel

save

select service from dropdown

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

+ Add service

- Facebook
- Google +
- Twitter
- Service A
- Service B
- Service C
- Service X
- Service Y
- Service Z

cancel

save

choose level of access (default read-only?)

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your

serviceA.com

- read-only access
Services will be able to read your preferences only
- read-write access Services will be able to read and write to your preferences (this will allow saving of any adjustments or modifications you make to your preferences where possible)

cancel

done

cancel

save

Service A is added to the list with read-write access

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

Service A read/write

+ Add service

cancel

save

editing a service in the list

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your GPII preferences. For services which do not appear in this list, you will be given the option to allow or deny access when first encountering each service.

Services may include things like a social media web application or an online banking website.

Allow the following services to access my preferences:

Service Y read/write edit

Service B read-only

Service A read/write

+ Add service

cancel

save

change level of access or remove from list altogether

Privacy

Services listed here will be able to access your

serviceY.com

remove from list

- read-only access
Services will be able to read your preferences only
- read-write access
Services will be able to read and write to your preferences (this will allow saving of any adjustments or modifications you make to your preferences where possible)

cancel

done

cancel

save